

RIGHT ADVISORY offers a unique perspective to address business and professional challenges of accountants, auditors, governance bodies and finance professionals.

V. Bridget Sarikas has extensive experience in investor relations and communication, financial planning and analysis, process improvement and effectiveness, and administration. She is an expert in using tools such as six sigma and lean to enhance outcomes and reduce costs.

Most recently, under a four-year contract assignment as Deputy CFO for Howard University (a billion dollar university and health system), she was directly responsible for improving the effectiveness of research and grants administration, facilities management, construction projects and all financial transaction processes. She directed a staff of 400 persons and a budget of over $100 million. She was also responsible for board-level reporting to financial and facilities oversight committees.

From 1999-2008 she held increasingly responsible roles at W. R. Grace & Co. (NYSE: GRA), a $3+ billion dollar industrial enterprise with multi-national operations including leading investor relations and global financial planning and analysis. In this position she had responsibility for all investor and analyst communications and presentations, as well as internal strategic and operating plan processes.

Prior to serving nine years at W. R. Grace & Co., she was a financial manager at MedStar Health, a multi-service regional health system, a professional assistant at Price Waterhouse LLP in Washington, DC and an energy analyst at Foster Associates, Inc. Her experiences in those roles included financial analysis and forecasting, executive and board level presentations, and numerous project management assignments.

Ms. Sarikas holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Indiana University and is a member of the National Investor Relations Institute.

Right Advisory deploys Ms. Sarikas in situations that require disciplined process management and/or restructuring. She provides the expertise necessary to bring diverse facets of an organization together around a betterment goal. She is hands-on in style and goal-oriented in approach. She trains existing staff as she leads the function to a best-in-class performance objective. She is the developer of Right Advisory's communication tools and formats.

The Right Perspective for Your Business Challenges